2020 Medical Training Survey

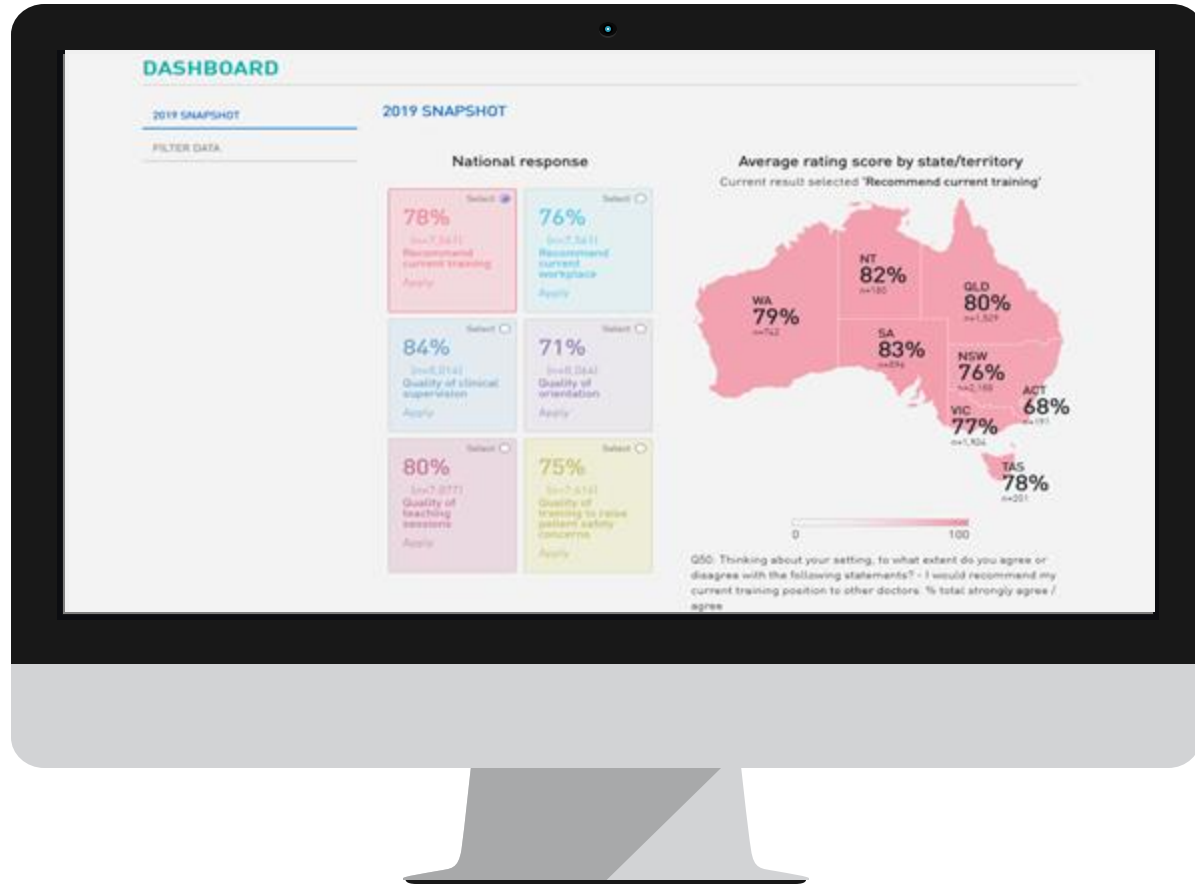

We need you to do the survey!

What did we learn in 2019?

What did the results tell us?

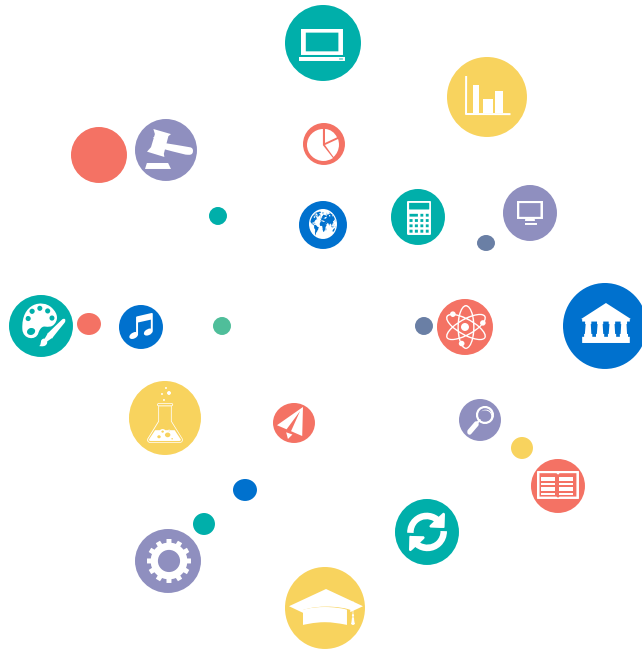

What's new in 2020?

Objectives of the survey

The Medical Training Survey gathers feedback from doctors in post-graduate medical training in Australia to:

1

Understand

Better understand the quality of medical training in Australia

2

Identify and improve

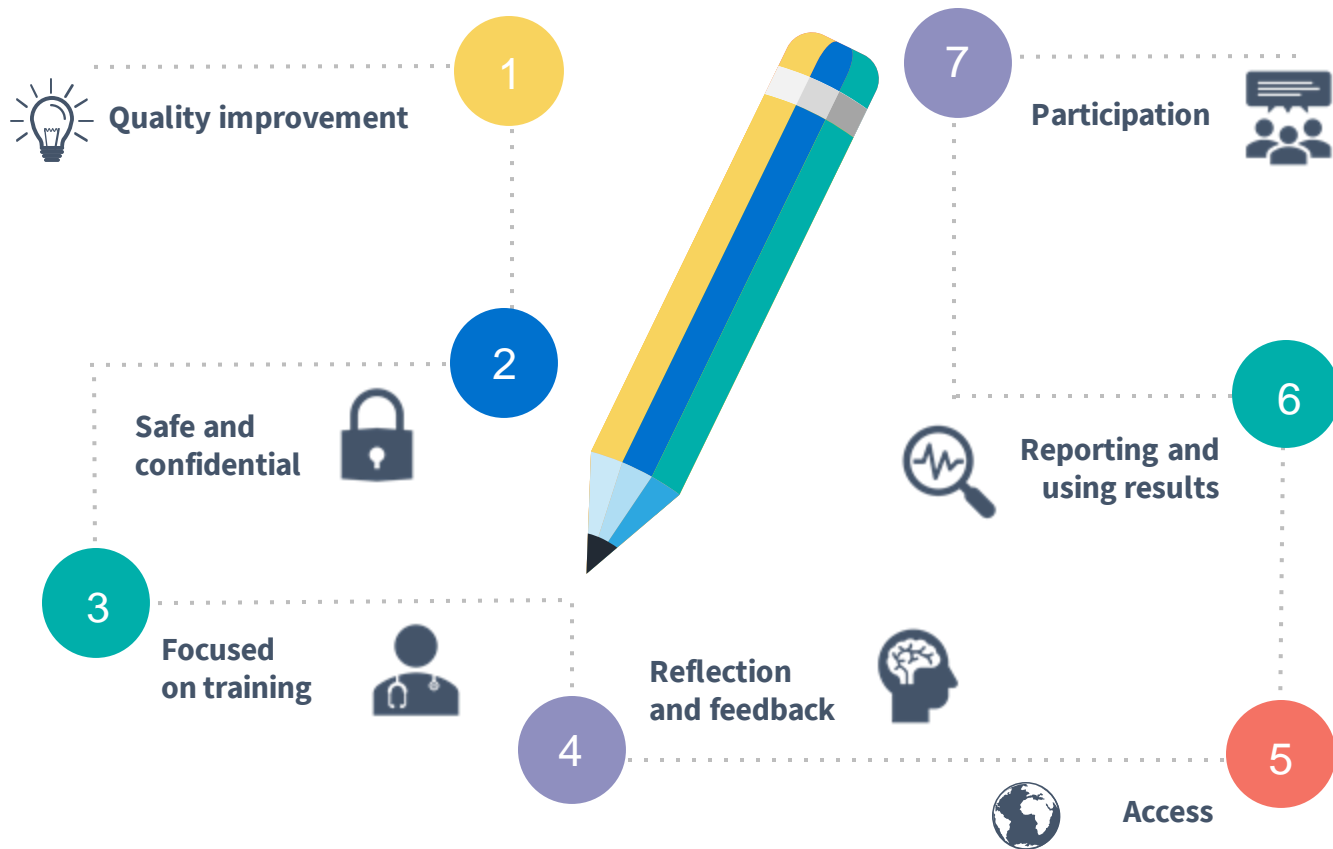

Identify how best to improve medical training in Australia

3

Recognise and respond

Recognise and deal with potential issues in medical training that could impact on patient safety, including environment and culture, unacceptable behaviours and poor supervision.
