

RACGP Gender Equity report

RACGP is proud to be leading the way in Australia in improving gender diversity and supporting women to take up leadership roles in general practice. The RACGP Board includes 6 female leads and 8 male leads.

RACGP Expert Committees

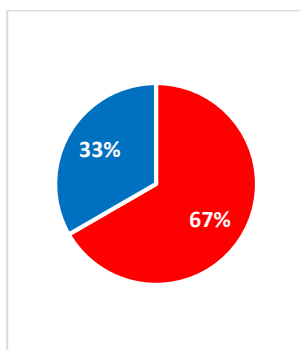

In 2018, gender distribution on RACGP Expert Committees varies from committee to committee; however, overall the gender split is 46% female to 54% male general practitioners.

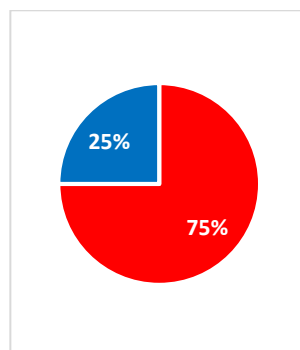

RACGP Future Leaders program

The purpose of the RACGP Future Leaders program is to increase the number of general practitioners with formal training and structured support in leadership development. Year on Year the program has attracted more than 60% female general practitioners and we are pleased to see alumni transition into key leadership roles within RACGP
